MAINE STATE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

The Maine State Temperance Society will meet in Mass Convention in

MEONIAN HALL, AUGUSTA,

—ON—

Wednesday, February 11th, 1880, at 11 o'clock A. M.,

and continue through Wednesday and Thursday.

The Maine State Temperance Society is composed of members of all temperance organizations in the State, and is designed to be the medium through which they can unitedly act in the use of all honorable measures for the final overthrow of the drinking system and the liquor traffic.

We cordially invite all friends of the temperance cause to meet with us on this occasion, in order to secure a more perfect union; to devise measures to educate the masses upon the drinking system; to strengthen the moral sentiment of the people upon the drink traffic; to advise upon the question of more stringent enactments for the suppression of drinking and selling intoxicating liquors; to take into consideration the willful neglect and refusal of executive officers of towns, cities and counties to enforce the laws upon the statutes of the State, prohibiting the traffic in intoxicating liquors; and to consider any and all questions bearing upon these subjects.

The exigencies of the times demand that we should vote for none but honest men and honest officials to enforce the laws; and that obedience to all laws being the paramount duty of all people, they should demand a thorough, impartial and non-partisan enforcement of law against the dram shop, as well as all other laws for the protection of the people, as the only safeguard of our institutions and homes.

The usual reduction of fare may be expected on the railroads.

THE BLACK LIST.

Here is the list in black letters of the men who, by an unhappy accident being in important official positions, deliberately abused their trust, perverted the laws which it was their sworn duty to execute justly and impartially according to their spirit and intent, who sought by wicked trickery to thwart the will of the people as expressed at the polls and who not only brought disgrace upon themselves but smirched the fair fame of the State whose officials they unfortunately were. Their names and places should be known of all men that they may receive the just punishment of being regarded as infamous by all good citizens and that the rising generation may learn by their example the folly of being wicked. To this list is appended the names of such other men as have taken offices to which they knew they were not elected, and who become equally guilty by taking advantage of the vile conduct of the original malefactors:

Our State Valuation.

As the matter of valuation is now an interesting theme to our people, it will be well for them through the columns of the PRESS, to present for consideration such views as they may have relative thereto, that some wise plan may be formed from a comparison and discussion of views of benefit to all. It is well known that under our present system by which the valuation lists of towns made for local taxation are adopted for State taxation that the cities have to bear the great burden of such taxes.

The reason of this is because in cities the rate of valuation, as a rule, is made higher than in country towns. As an instance, the shares of vessels owned in part in Portland and in part in other towns in the State, are in some instances valued for taxation nearly three times as high here as in neighboring towns. Now, in order to equalize the burden of State taxation we have a State Board of Valuation whose duty it should be to fix a uniform valuation on the entire property of the State, subject to taxation. The assessors of the various towns and cities in the State should be required to render to this Board correct lists, showing the cash value of the property within these several precincts, and these lists would furnish the basis for the valuation of the State Board. It may be objected that the assessors might render incorrect lists or lists showing too low a valuation; but this might be met by giving the State Board the power of revision and correction. By having the lists of all the towns before them, they could easily discover such inaccuracies. Indeed, it should be the duty of this Board to make a correct and uniform valuation of all the property of the State subject to taxation, using the lists returned to them by the assessors only as guides. It is to be hoped that our representatives will consider this matter and act upon it.

A CANVASS of Presidential preferences in the Wisconsin Legislature has resulted as follows: For Blaine, 42; Grant, 27; Sherman, 10; Washburne, 8; Garfield, 5; Edmunds, 1; Hayes 1; Gen. Sherman, 1. Democrats—Seymour, 19; Tilden, 4; Bayard, 3; Hancock, 1. Nine members refused to express their opinion.

THE question of modifying the Methodist itineracy will come up again at the general conference at Cincinnati, in May.

THE Argus still persists in impeaching the late Governor Garcelon and his counsel. The editorial columns contain a paragraph day after day, the substance of which has appeared in editorials and communications probably a hundred times in the last two months, viz: "The constitution makes it the duty of the Governor and Council to examine the returns of elections for members of the Legislature and to issue certificates to such as appear to be elected." Never in a single instance has this been denied or disputed. Every Republican not only admits it to be their duty but demands that they shall do it. The trouble was they refused. We have no doubt they "examined" the returns very critically—we admit that—but they issued certificates to those who did not appear to be elected. Suppose they had issued certificates to 151 men as representatives who were not elected or even voted for; they had the the power to do it and the crime would have been the same in quality, differing only in quantity.

PHILADELPHIA Press: General Bingham is of the opinion that the Harrisburg convention has resulted in the avoidance of any antagonism between Senators Blaine and Cameron. There was never a reason why any antagonism between them should result from it. The question there was a simple difference of preference among Republicans. Surely, this is allowable, and the policy adopted by the caucus of the Blaine men went simply to the point of devising means to secure their right to vote their preference on the yeas and nays, which it was understood there was a purpose to deny to them. Without discussing who laid down this policy it is apparent it could not be construed into a desire to make a fight with any one, and that there was nothing in it which justified any resentment because of it.

THE New Era and other Greenback papers which have been denouncing as a device of the Money Power the order restricting suffrage to those who can read and write the English language, may be relieved to learn that the order was introduced by Mr. Hunnewell of Scarboro, a Fusionist, who stuck by the Fusion Legislature to the last.

THE great outcry made by the Fusionists over the expenses of former executive councils will be hushed now. The expenses for 1878 were $9,343; for 1879 $9,175. That is a fair illustration of Fusion economy.

TREASURER WHITE'S report shows that the claim of a saving of $300,000 in State expenditures, made by the Fusionists during the campaign last Fall, is utterly without foundation.

THE Argus has uncovered another great constitutional lawyer, in the person of John H. Webster who has the misfortune to disagree with the court.

THE Argus recognizes Gov. Davis on the local page, and disputes his title on its editorial—which goes to show the greater wisdom of the third page.

THE Atchinson, Kansas, Champion says Kansas is as ardently devoted to Mr. Blaine now as it was four years ago.

THE majority of the Democratic National committee favor Cincinnati as he meeting place of their convention.

ONE great recommendation cremation possesses is in its cheapness. The cost is only thirty-five dollars.

IT is funny to find Democratic papers echoing Sumner's condemnation of the Dred Scott decision.

"The Usurper Chamberlain's brief and infamous rule," the Bangor Commercial calls it.

THE latest boom appears to be that for the Monroe Doctrine.

IT is believed Secretary Sherman will have the North Carolina delegation.

MR. WEAVER seems to have bad success with his big bill.

State Expenditures.

[Lewiston Journal.]

During the last campaign in Maine the strong card of the Fusion leaders was the claim that they would save $200,000 in the expenditures of the State for the year 1879. Secretary Gove "officially" announced that the saving would be much more than this. Now that the year has past, and we have the official statement of Treasurer White as to the amounts actually paid out during the last year, it may be well to contrast the promise with the performance.

When the Fusion State administration came in Jan. 1, 1879, it found $157,053 in the State Treasury, against which was a liability of $150,000 for money borrowed during the last year of Gov. Connor's administration. After paying this note, there would have remained $7,256 in the Treasury. It appears from the report of Secretary White, that Jan 7, 1880, there was $69,413 in the State Treasury, against which was a liability of $125,000 for money borrowed during the last year. Thus the State lacked $55,587 of having enough to pay for money borrowed during the year. In other words the comparison of 1878 and 1879, after making allowance for notes, shows the State Treasury $62,843 worse off in 1879 than it was in 1878.

Again, the total payments of 1878 were $1,273,376. Deduct from this amount $25,000 paid to reduce principal on debt (as there was no payment of principal in 1879), $25,984 excess of Savings Bank tax in 1878 over 1879, which simply passes through the treasury to the towns for common schools, $6,826 excess of railroad tax distributed to towns in 1878 over 1879, $8,276 excess of mill tax distributed to towns in 1878 over 1879, $4,000 paid for statue to ex-Gov. King, and $6,500 paid College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts—and we find that the total expenditures for 1878 were $1,196,790. The total payments of 1879 are reported by Treasurer White as $1,196,005 exclusive of amount paid on note given the previous year. Reduction of expenditures $30,787. Considering that everything needed for the Insane Hospital, Reform School, State Prison, etc., was 10 per cent. cheaper in 1879 than in 1878, this reduction of only thirty thousand dollars is a small amount of wool for the great cry we had of Fusion economy during the last campaign.

All will recollect what charges of extravagance were made against Republican Legislatures and executive councils, and how the people were given to understand that the Fusion Legislature and Council, and especially the printing and binding would not cost the State half as much as formerly. Thd following table of expenditures for several items in 1878 under "corrupt" Republican auspices, and in 1879 under "reform" fusion, will tell the story:

|---|---|---|
| Pay Roll Council | $4,890. | $4,475. |
| Gov. and Council, Contingent expenses | 4,953. | 4,700. |
| Pay Roll Senate | 8,921. | 8,582. |
| Pay Roll House | 31,970. | 32,718. |
| Printing | 19,999. | 19,055. |
| Binding | 9,363. | 6,887. |

We trust that those credulous gentlemen who swallowed the marvellous stories of Republican extravagance, and Fusion economy and savings, which formed the chief stock in trade of the fusion orators in the late campaign, will sit down and compare the items of expenditure reported by Treasurer Banks for 1878, with those reported by Treasurer White for 1879, and see for themselves how much stock there was for the State issues which caught so many votes last September.

Quaint Stories of Bears.

[Land and Water.]

During one of the bitter cold days we have lately had, there arrived a very interesting addition to the Gardens, namely, a little bear, sent by Mr. Cross, of Liverpool, on "sale or return." Knowing my great liking for bears, Mr. Bartlett kindly brought this young gentleman down to pay me a visit. He was a funny little fellow about the size of a large rough puppy, and a very knowing customer. When I took him out of his box and put him before the fire he sat down on his haunches, turned his head and inspected the monkeys in their cage. The monkeys did not know what to make of him. They did not show the same symptoms of alarm as when a snake is brought in, but they paid Mr. Bear very great respect, not even making a face at him. When let out of their cage they took good care not to come on the ground, but invariably got on the chairs, cage or mantelpiece, always keeping one eye on the intruder. The bear was very inquisitive, and walked about the room on his short bandy legs and pryed into everything. What amused him most was to scratch up the matting forming the hearth rug and to hunt for something. This is his natural habit, to turn over stones, etc., to catch beetles, worms, etc. His great delight was to get somebody's finger into his mouth; he would then immediately begin sucking most vehemently, making a peculiar noise all the time, as if much gratified.

It was necessary, however, to keep one's finger in the middle of his mouth, as otherwise there was a chance of being nipped smartly by his canine teeth, which were quite large enough to hurt. He was intolerant of cold, and would, if he could, get under the grate and rake about among the ashes, sometimes even getting his fur singed.

I tried to teach him tricks, and began by making him stand upright in the corner of the sofa. The little rascal, however, would not learn anything, and his education finished by his making a fierce rush at me and my boxing his ears.

To the servants a bear was a bear, and it was very amusing to hear the shindy they kicked up when in the course of his peregrinations about the house, Mr. Bear met them on the stairs or went into the kitchen to warm himself. He had very peculiar eyes, very pig-like and cunning, and he was fond of coming up to a visitor, staring him steadfastly in the face, as much as to say, "Please give me something; I think you had better." He would eat almost anything, but his favorite diet was bread, milk and sugar. I am sorry to say I was obliged to send him back to the Gardens or I should like to have made a companion of him, and I am certain, as he was tame, he would soon have become obedient.

Apropos of bears, I do not think that I have ever put on record the story about the bear who managed to get loose at the Gardens. At daybreak one fine Summer's morning the watchman reported to Mr. Bartlett that there was something alive underneath the chairs, which, as usual, had been piled up after the visitors had left. When Mr. Bartlett came to look at the chairs, it was quite apparent that there was somebody or something alive in the middle of the pyramid. Watching carefully among the legs of the chairs at last two black eyes were seen; these were apparently bear's eyes, so they counted the bears in the bear pit, and one of them was found to be missing. The difficulty now was to get the bear back into the pit. The chairs were removed one by one till the bear remained unconcealed. My gentleman then got up on his hind legs and showed symptoms of becoming nasty.

The bear was then surrounded by the keepers in a half-circle. The best thing in the world to fight a wild animal is the stump end of a broom. The bear, knowing his way back home, went up the steps and ran along the parapet, over the cages in which the lions at that time lived. When he got home to his bear-pit he evidently did not like the jump down, so he reared himself up on his hind-legs, and swinging himself backward and forward began to swear in a bear-like manner. While the stupid old bear was making a fool of himself in this way, Mr. Bartlett took a run at him, and knocked him clean over into the bear-pit with the stump end of the broom. He laid there a long time with all the wind knocked out of him. At last he got up, shook himself, and sneaked off into his den, where he lay mumbling for several days, but ultimately came out none the worse for his expedition among the chairs or his tumble backward into the bear-pit.

Though bears are very good climbers, yet it is a mercy that they cannot jump, or otherwise they would have long ago jumped out of the bear-pit from the top of their pole. Some years back a young man, on a sixpenny day, had an adventure with a bear. I suppose the heat of the weather (or other disturbing causes) made him drop his best holiday hat right into the bear-pit. The stupid fellow at once got down into the bear-pit, alighting on the top of a big bear who was coiled up sleeping in the sun. The bear got up, and taking the man by the shoulders, began waltzing round with him. Luckily the man kept his feet, and nothing happened, as the keeper drove off the bear and let the man out at the side door. He forgot, however, to take his hat with him, but left it in the cage; the bears, of course, tore it up. The cool impertinence of this man was greatly to be wondered at, as next day he actually sent in a bill to the Society for a new hat.

There is a very curious bear at the Zoological Gardens now. He sits up when he sees anybody coming, and begs for what he can get. I he is shown anything and does not get it, he pretends to commit suicide, turning and biting himself all over most furiously. This is an amusing beast. He cannot bear being laughed at.

A First Representation and the Critics.

At a time when it was considered that a notice of a new play should appear in the morrow's paper as a piece of actual news which the reader had a right to expect, such notices were naturally written under great disadvantages, and, knowing this, the critics, as a rule, wielded their midnight pens with a certain air of kindly reservation. But recently theatrical matters have assumed a prominence altogether remarkable, and dramatic criticisms are looked for with eagerness, not only in the London papers, but in all the principal provincial ones, several of these latter receiving "criticisms" wired by telegraph "after the play." Valuable, indeed, must be these carefully considered, thoughtful and unbiased communications! I maintain that in most cases new plays, of any importance at all, should be seen a second time by the critic before he ventures to give any elaborate comment upon their merits, or upon the manner of their representation. The modern "first night" means a gathering of people, for the most part known, more or less, to each other. Hand-shaking, nodding, whispering, or loud chatter sotto voce, sneering, obtrusive partisanship, mute but expressive grimaces indicative of patient misery or inward glee—these, combined with occasional interruptions of a sarcastic and personal nature from overcrowded occupants of the galleries or dissatisfied denizens of the pit, form the "humors" of a "première" at a West End play-house. The more prominent of the critics are known to two-thirds of the audience, and

A Spirited Debate in the House.

Pillsbury Going to Boston to Practice Law.

[Special Despatch to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Feb. 10.—The House had a regular field day during its session today, and members came very near losing their dinners the session was so prolonged. It was occasioned by the introduction of an order by Swan, the fusion member from Minot, to have published in connection with the three recent opinions of the Supreme Judicial Court, the answer of the same court, which was in the negative, to questions proposed by Governor's Council in 1877, inquiring whether the Governor and Council, in the pursuance of their duty to ascertain what county officers are elected at the September election, cannot lawfully count the votes of a town, the return of which bears the proper signature of one of the selectmen, and the names of the other selectmen written by other hands than their own. Nor in such case can they lawfully count the votes of a town, the return of which is not attested by the town clerk.

The introduction of such an order was not only to afford an opportunity to abuse the court but also evidently intended as a fire brand by the revolutionary Swan with a view to incite political strife. If such was the design he and his associates had the satisfaction of causing their infamous doings to be brought up before them like Banquo's ghost, which would not down at their bidding. Although the order was sprung upon the House during the regular business of the morning hour, when anything is rarely if ever interjected that would give rise to debate, Mr. Hale, the dashing and intrepid leader of the Republicans, always ready for any emergency, was immediately upon his feet to measure lances with an adversary, unworthy of his personal recognition, but who was the representative of a cause which although it had been overthrown, still defied the popular will and threatened anarchy and revolution.

Mr. Hale's speech was one of the best he has ever made.

Speaker Weeks resumed the handling of the gavel today, and Mr. Young, who was chosen Speaker pro tem., retired with a record for expediting business which won him laurels.

The object of the bill in relation to actions against sheriffs, deputy sheriffs and constables is to provide for greater protection against malfeasance in office.

A hearing this evening took place in the Representatives' Hall on the irrepressible porgie, before the committee on fisheries. Luther Maddox appeared for parties who want the law of last year repealed. He gave some interesting facts, and presented reasons why the law was injurious to an industry in which a large amount of capital was invested.

An effort will be made to have the Judiciary committee report a bill to compel fire insurance companies to pay the amount of policy in full in all cases where there is a total loss by fire. To-morrow this committee will give a hearing to those who desire a better protection to the holders of life insurance policies.

It is now certain that Eben F Pillsbury is to leave the State. He is now in Boston, with a view to establishing himself there in the practice of law. He has leased his house here, offers his interest in the Standard for sale, and his family in a few days will remove to Boston. It is a case of fleeing the realm to escape the punishment of an outraged people, that was never witnessed before in the political history of the State.

The criminal record for Maine by the Attorney General's report shows that there were 942 prosecutions the past year, of which number 475 were for violating the liquor law. 376 of these prosecutions resulted in conviction. The costs of prosecutions were $65,290; fines collected $28,275, mostly from violations of the liquor law. Nearly one-half of the fines were collected in Cumberland county.

[To the Associated Press.]

Dr. Charles W. Johnson of East Machias has received the appointment of trustee of the Insane Hospital in place of Dr. A. J. Fuller of Bath.

Samuel J. Gallagher of Augusta has been appointed in charge of the pension department in place of Benj. Bunker.

The committee on manufactures, this afternoon, voted to report a bill reducing to one-half mill the pay of inspectors of lime and lime casks.

The committee on judiciary voted to report the bill to change the name of the trustees of funds for the support of the Episcopate of the Episcopal church of the State of Maine; also to report an act to amend an act to incorporate the city of Rockland; also to amend the charter of the same city in reference to the election of Mayor.

The committee on interior waters gave a long hearing to prominent lumbermen from the eastern part of the State on a proposition to incorporate M. S. Drummond and Wm. H. McCrillis into a company to building dams on the West Branch, and Pleasant river in Piscataquis county, to flow the Lyford ponds and make such other improvements as may be necessary to float logs from Lyford Pond into Roach river and pond. This was resisted by J. W. Palmer of Bangor on the ground that it would ruin his property in that section on which he had spent considerable money to develope. The matter was laid on the table.

The educational committee agreed to have a bill drafted for their consideration providing for uniformity in text books. This committee will start to-morrow for a visit to the Agricultural College in connection with the committee on agriculture, and from thence will proceed to pay an official visit to the Normal School at Castine.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 10.

A remonstrance was presented against the repeal of the porgie law.

An order of inquiry was passed as to the expediency of repealing the insolvency act.

It was ordered that inquiry be made as to amending the law relating to hawkers and peddlers.

A bill was presented and referred incorporating the Ragged Lake Dam Co.

The following bills were passed to be engrossed:

Extending the time for completing the Bangor & Piscataquis railroad.

To amend an act to incorporate the Richardson Wharf Co. of Portland.

A large number of petitions were presented for holding the February term of the Supreme Judicial Court at Caribou in Aroostook county.

House.

Under a suspension of the rules several petitions were presented, among which the most important were the following:

Asking for authority to certain citizens of Houlton to supply that village with pure water; from citizens of Bristol for a law to remunerate persons who develop valuable deposits on the lands of others; for amending charter of the city of Rockland; for amendment to the prohibitory law so as to include cider in the list of intoxicants; for further protection of agricultural societies; for a law prohibiting the building of fish weirs; that law relating to mischievous doings may be reenacted; that Ward 7 be set off from Rockland; for restoration of salaries and number of Judges of the Supreme Judicial Court: for a law prohibiting the catching of fish in certain lakes in Aroostook county; for incorporation of Eastern Slate Company; a remonstrance was presented against changing the boundary lines of the city of Portland.

The House passed in concurrence the Senate amendments to the Ocean street horse railroad bill, and then pending its passage to be engrossed, it was tabled on motion of Mr. Smart of Deering.

Mr. Swan (fusion) of Minot offered the following:

Ordered, That the opinion of the Supreme Judicial Court, which is published in the 68th Maine Report on pages 587 and 588 be published with the three recent opinions which have been ordered published by this House.

Mr. Swan remarked that he did not present the order as a partisan. He wished to have his opinion published as he proposed because it is contradictory to the recent opinions and shows that the opinions of the court changes from time to time. He desired to have it published to show that the opinions of the court cannot be depended upon.

Mr. Hale of Ellsworth remarked that there was no occasion for any gentleman feeling sensitive in this matter, or for any gentleman to go back to opinions found on the shelves of lawyers and in the libraries of gentlemen. It may not be known to the gentleman from Minot that the opinions of the Judges of the Supreme Court are a record known from year to year, and are embodied in the volumes of Maine reports. The gentleman from Minot 40 his nervousness may appear here from day to day whistling to keep his courage up but no puny hand of his can arrest the judgment of the Supreme Court. Nothing can prevent the enunciation of the great opinions as being law. They embody and place on record the laws that rally around the ballot and which determine the rights of the people. He had become tired of hearing this constant snarling about these opinions. No Republican had made himself offensive in this particular. The gentleman from Minot will have enough to attend to before we get through. (Applause.) He had better let the court alone. Mr. Hale moved the indefinite postponement of the order.

Mr. Perry (fusion) of Camden could see no good reason why the opinion should not be published. He could see no good reason why members should be so touched, as if their toes had been trodden upon. What advantage is it to the common people that these opinions are bound up in calf skin and are on the shelves of lawyers. The common people want light. The gentleman from Ellsworth seems to be touched. Is he afraid to have this matter go before the people? You must be all cowards. Why are you so afraid? If the Judges see fit to cut their throats by their opinions the people want to know it. Public opinion is stronger than the pulpit, press or bench.

Mr. Swan (fusion) said Judge Virgin's opinion was a righteous one founded on the constitution and the laws. It ought to be published with the other opinions. Why this opposition? It is because there are some who do not dare to have it published with the other opinions to go before the people of the state.

Mr. Young of Brunswick thought that gentleman labored under a misapprehension and undertook to explain by saying there was no objection to having the opinion of Judge Virgin published.

Plaisted (fusion) of Lincoln, interrupting—Do you consider the opinions of the Supreme Court a decision?

Young—I have been accustomed so to consider them, otherwise I should not be here. (Applause by the Republicans.)

Mr. Young then resumed. He believed that a majority of this House stood ready to print the opinion of Judge Virgin. All this flummary, all this loud talk ought to be dispensed with. He was tired of it, and yet his courage did not ooze out by this Chinese noise of gongs. Let us talk less and attend to business.

Plaisted said he was not a lawyer; he was one of the plain people, and therefore must be excused if he spoke plainly. He would speak as a free American citizen. You may succeed through the Supreme Court in choking public opinion and in stifling it, but still it existed, and will come to the front sooner or later. The people will settle it. He did not intend to discuss the legality of the organization of this legislature.

The Speaker—The Chair will not permit any reflections to be made on this House.

Plaisted continued: He stood by the gentlemen from Minot to hurl back the attacks made on him. He had been here through all the trying scenes that had occurred. No man could accuse him (Plaisted) of whistling to keep his courage up. He had no right to do it. As an honest man he would say that bulldozing and disrespect to the people had come from the other side of the House. No honest man can say that we have indulged in sneers and whistlings. The records show that there has been occasion for us to reply in stinging language. These are only opinions liable to be changed at any time. They are not to be printed for the benefit of lawyers, but for the benefit of the people, and Judge Virgin's opinion should go with them.

Perry said he would not vote to pay one cent from the treasury of the people's money to pay for the printing of Judge Virgin's opinion if it was printed separately. He knew the Republicans had to follow their leaders who were under the whip, and that is the reason he wanted Virgin's opinion published with the other opinions so that the Republicans would not blindly follow their leaders, but see for themselves.

Hussey of Waldo (fusion) said that although we may differ in our political views let us have the favor we ask for granted.

Mr. Butler of Vassalboro explained the opinions of the court and showed their impregnability.

Perry quoted Scripture to show that it was not the righteous but sinners who are called to repentance.

Mr. Bradstreet of Bridgton uttered his protest against any vote of the House that would have a tendency to belittle the opinions of the Supreme Court.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Hale, Perry and Plaisted, and the order was indefinitely postponed by 82 yeas to 48 nays,

Orders of inquiry were passed relating to the necessity of procuring copies of maps of the survey of the eastern boundaries of the State, and to report facts; amending the law in relation to the taxation of railroads; whether legislation is necessary to protect persons whose notes are obtained by fraud; amending the law so as to prevent money being drawn from one appropriation for any other purpose than that for which the appropriation has been made.

A bill was reported to amend chap. 90 of the laws of 1879, by adding the following words: "and further excepting that nothing herein contained shall authorize any compensation from the State Treasury for counsel for the defence in cases formerly capital." Ordered printed.

A bill was presented and referred providing for seven trustees of the Insane Hospital, and that one shall be a woman.

The bill authorizing the consolidation of schools in certain cases was read twice, and then tabled on motion of Mr. Ingalls of Wiscasset.

A company was organized in Boston Monday to construct and operate a railroad from Cairo, Egypt, throughit Port Said and Damascus to connect with the Euphrates Valley railway about to be built by an English company.

The county bridge also took fire from the communicating flames and was destroyed. The passengers by the midnight train from the North remained here last night. A temporary bridge is expected to be completed in a day or two. Passengers were transferred in boats. The fire is supposed to be incendiary.

On resumption of the debate on the address in reply to a speech from the throne Chamberlain (Liberal) said he should vote for the amendment to show his sympathy was with the Irish who were suffering from the land system. He did not believe the government had spent £10,000 on the relief. They were in no way alive to the gravity of the situation.

AFGHANISTAN.

Startling Extent of the Russian Intrigues.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—It has come to the knowledge of the war office that the blue books published concerning Russia in Afghanistan and Russia at Merv do not by any means contain the last word of the transaction. It is understood that Russia is implicated up to the period of Major Cavagnari's assassination, and that if the suppressed correspondence were published it might necessitate a declaration of war against that power. It is further stated that the Czar may have disavowed the acts of his agents in Central Asia, and that the suppression is due to this possibility.

Further Indications of Russian Intrigue.

A dispatch from Vienna says intelligence is received that at the time Gen. Roberts so unexpectedly found himself in a critical position before Cabul, the Russian General Abramow, Governor of Samarcand, had secretly arrived at Derwaz east of Cabul, the centre of agitation There is no longer the slightest doubt that a league was formed in Central Asia under the auspices of Russia, against English domination, and that the most prominent and influential member of the league is the Ameer of Bokhara whose daughter married Abdurrahman Khan, the Afghan pretender.

United States District Court.

Webb & Haskell for defendant.

Court adjourned to February 12.

Superior Court.

BEFORE JUDGE BONNEY.

TUESDAY.—Gardner R. Norton vs. Eben N. Perry et al. Action of assumpsit upon an account annexed to recover for 100 bbls of Baldwin apples at $1.35 per barrel, less a credit for freight, leaving a balance of $124.75. The defendants claim by the terms of the contract the apples were to be strictly A No. 1 apples or no sale; that in fact the apples were so sorted and packed that they were in fact marketable as only number two; that they so notified plaintiff, and told him the apples were subject to his order, as they should not take them

The plaintiff claims that there was no warranty that the apples should be No 1 or no sale, but that he informed defendants he had purchased the "Boothby" apples, and that defendants said they knew what those apples were, and agreed to take them at the price named, but that even if the contract was as claimed by the defts, the apples were up to the contract; that by reason of the unreasonable delay by defendants in notifying plaintiff they, by law, must be held to have accepted the apples, that the apples when packed were strictly A No 1 apples, and any deterioration afterwards was by no fault of the plaintiff. Verdict for the plaintiff for $131.71.

Drummonds for defendant.

Governor Davis.

HIS VISIT TO THE FOREST CITY.

Grand Reception by the Citizens at City Hall.

The noon train from Augusta brought to this city yesterday His Excellency Governor Davis, with Hons. Fred Robie, Gorham, Lewis Barker, Bangor, J. G. Pendleton, Searsport, Samuel N. Campbell, Cherryfield, J. T. Hinkley, Bluehill, William Wilson, Hallowell, and Roscoe L. Bowers, Saco, all of his Council, and Adjutant General Beal, Norway, Surgeon General Howe, Pittsfield, Judge Advocate Col. Bailey, Oldtown, Commissary General Benson, Portland, Colonels J. T. Richards, Gardiner, J. D. Maxfield, Phillips, H. B. Hill, Auburn, Col. F. E. Heath, Waterville, and Charles Cobb, Rockland, all of his staff. Inspector General Tilden, of Castine, arrived by the evening train. Besides the above named gentlemen there were Senator and Mrs. Hills of Hancock county, Mrs. Bowers, Mrs. Colonel Hill, Mr. Bodwell, of the Bodwell Granite Works at Hallowell, A. A. Strout, Esq., of Portland, and others.

At the station J. W. Robinson had six of his elegant carriages in attendance, and the party were here met by the committee from the Fraternity consisting of Mayor Walker, Messrs. T. C. Hersey, Charles McLaughlin, and W. W. Thomas, Jr., and driven directly to the Falmouth Hotel. Mayor Walker occupied the carriage with the Governor, which was drawn by four superb black horses.

After dinner at the hotel, the carriages were again called and the Governor and Council, with President Little of the Trustees of the Reform School, visited the Maine General Hospital, where they were received by the directors and expressed themselves very much pleased with the institution.

Subsequently the Governor and part of the Council visited the school for deaf mutes, which is under the management of Miss Barton, and expressed themselves very much pleased with the condition of the school and the method of instruction employed there.

At 7.45 p. m. the special reception committee, mentioned above, escorted the Governor, staff and council to the Mayor's office, where he was received by the committee of reception and other gentlemen, including Mayor Walker, Israel Washburn, Jr., W. W. Thomas, Chas. McLaughlin, Nathan Webb, W. L. Putnam, S. E. Spring, Geo. S. Hunt, Samuel J. Anderson, Geo. W. True, Geo. P. Wescott, John B Brown, S. C. Strout, J. H. Drummond, H. N. Jose, Chas. P. Mattocks, Dr. S. C. Gordon, A. A. Strout, Ruel Maxcy, J. P. Baxter, J. S. Winslow, Ira P. Farrington, E. C. Jordan, T. C. Hersey, Stanley Pullen, the Aldermen and Councilmen—with very few exceptions—Jacob McLellan, C. E. Jose, E. S. Ridlon, Spencer Rogers and others. At 8 o'clock the party ascended to the main hall. The floor was admirably managed by Mr. F. R. Farrington, assisted by Messrs. W. Senter, Jr., E. C. Jordan, J. H. Drummond, Jr., P. T. Griffin, W. H. Schumacher, and E. D. Noyes.

The hall had been elegantly draped with bunting and decorated with glories of flags, while a splendid bald-headed eagle, from the Natural History Society, was perched on the support at the centre of the rear gallery, and gazed proudly upon the brilliant scene below. The stair-ways and lobbies were also beautifully draped with flags, and a large squad of police, in full dress uniform, under Deputy Crowell, prevented any confusion.

As the distinguished party entered the hall Chandler's full band struck up the Portland First Regiment March. The galleries were filled with spectators and the settees around the apartment were filled with ladies in rich toilets. The Governor took his stand in front of the stage, and for some time a long file of ladies and gentlemen was continually arriving and departing as they were introduced to His Excellency. We noticed the officers at the Fort were well represented. During the introductions the band played the following choice selections in their admirable style:

Portland First Regiment March ... Marstein
Overture—LeDiademe ... Herman
Waltz—Die Hydropaten ... Gungl
Selection—Giofle Giroffa ... Lecocq
Overture—L'Espoir de l'Alsace ... Herman
Galop—Through the Air ... Ziehrer

The assemblage then took their places for the opening dance, and an order of fourteen waltzes and redowas was proceeded with until a late hour. Supper was laid in the Reception Hall and waited upon by a large corps of pretty girls tastefully dressed. Soon after ten the Governor left, while the rest of the company kept up the merry dance till morn.

THE GRAND TRUNK.

The First Through Freight over the New Road on the Way to Portland.

The Chicago Tribune says: The new Grand Trunk railway from this city will be virtually opened for freight business on Saturday, when the first freight train will leave this city with a large consignment of grain for Liverpool, which was contracted for yesterday. This freight goes via Portland. The principal object in sending the freight is to have the people in England note that the Grand Trunk is now ready to ship freight there over its own line all the way from Chicago to Portland. An arrangement has been made between the Grand Trunk and the ocean line from Portland by which both will act in concert as regards freight rates, and joint bills of lading will be issued in this city.

From Ira C. Stockbridge we have received the following:

"Racquet Galop," by Kate Simmons.
"Blue Alsatian Mountain Waltz," by Smith.
"Boccaccio March," by Suppe.

The latter pieces are very popular in New York and Boston. They are played by the theatre orchestras and used at all the dancing academies.

A Little Child Burned to Death.

A terrible accident occurred in Knightville Sunday morning, which resulted fatally Monday night. Mr. Charles Orr, who lives on C. street, had two boys, twins, three years of age Sunday morning one of the little fellows got out of bed before the rest of the family were up, and toddling around the rooms found some matches, one of which he lighted and in some way set his nightdress, which was the only thing he had on, on fire. In an instant he was enveloped in flames. His cries awoke his parents, who rushed to his rescue, but before the fire could be extinguished, the child was fearfully burned. A doctor was at once summoned, but could do little for him. The child died at 7 o'clock Monday.

TICKELICK.

Walter Goold's new opera, "Tickelick, or Middies and Misses," will be produced a City Hall, April 2d and 3d, by the Portland English Opera Company, augmented for the occasion. The opera was composed expressly for the Woman's Temperance Association, under whose auspices it will be produced. The proceeds are to be devoted to the Friendly Inn and station work. Mr. Goold is carefully selecting his principals and chorus, and will personally conduct all rehearsals and performances. He will also make up his orchestra from the very best musicians in the city. Those who have heard the music praise it very highly, and the libretto (also by Mr. Goold) is said to be sparkling and witty throughout.

THE MYSTIC COTERIE.

Balabrega, the illusionist, assisted by Mlle. Lulu, the clairvoyant, Prof. Ryerson, the universal musician and humorist, Wm. Freeman, the piano soloist, Alf Shaw, the English comique, and Mr. Laflin on the xylophone will form the combination of talent in the "Mystic Coterie" at Portland Theatre to-night. A crowded gallery and a good dress-circle and orchestra greeted Pat Rooney's show on their return to Portland Theatre last night. The entertainment was as good as before. The company have lost Miss Wilson who left yesterday.

NOTES.

Miss Arabella Goddard has retired from the concert stage, and is about to organize a music school for young ladies in London.

A younger sister of Anna Mehlig, who was so deservedly popular in New York, has made her appearance as a pianiste in London. Her name is Bertha Mehlig, and, like her sister, she is said to be an artist of decided ability.

Little Corrinne Opera Troupe were at Bangor last night. They will soon visit Portland.

The Beethoven Club concert will be Feb. 17th, instead of this evening.

The New England Opera Company, 25 people, talk of giving "Chimes of Normandy" two nights at City Hall, with low prices, 25 cents.

Nick Roberts' Humpty-Dumpty Troupe, with three clowns, the Miaco Brothers, gymnasts, the Austins, and other great talent, will appear at Portland Theatre next Monday night.

It is rumored that Mr. Will R. Howard, who last season achieved success in the leading tenor role in "Cupid," has been engaged as "Mr. Midshipman Sedley" in "Tickelick."

B. E. McDonough and James Connellan have been appointed to receive subscriptions in Ward one.

THE Hartford Post, commenting on the Annual Statement of the ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, says: "The management of the company has been eminently successful from the outset, but never more so than during the past year. This is clearly demonstrated by the interest account, which shows an income of more than 7½ per cent. on the gross assets of the company at the beginning of 1879. The remark of Insurance Commissioner Stedman several weeks ago, after finishing the examination of the company as required by law, that "the Ætna's assets are as solid as granite," is sustained in every respect by the thirtieth annual statement. The policy holders in the Ætna Life have the best of reasons for feeling that they are insured in one of the strongest and most reliable companies in the world."

Y. M. C. A. STATE CANVASS.—The Gospel workers, Smith and Frost, have been laboring in Round Pond with good results. There is a general awakening and many souls are rejoicing.

Ash Wednesday.

Today is Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent. Christmas is now so universally observed that all who would observe it intelligently as well as fittingly, but are not fully informed as to the duration of the season, will like to know that it ends with the Feast of the Purification, Feb. 2, unless Septuagesima falls before that date as it did this year, in which event Septuagesima terminates the season, and also begins a sort of ante-Lent, or preparation for the great fast. Every vestige of Christmas decorations, if any remain, should now disappear from private houses as well as from the churches where the evergreens no longer breathe their perfume and the last echoes of the gladsome carols have long since died away. The Christ-child who brought "joy to the world" grew up to be the "Man of Sorrows," and it is this fact which causes the sight and sound of feasting to give place to the solemn hush of Lent, which in turn will give place to the yet more joyful and inspiring celebration of the Feast of the Resurrection, Easter Day, which falls this year on March 28.

Divine service will be held at St. Paul's church this morning at half-past 10, and also in the evening at half-past 7. At this latter service the Rector will deliver the first of a series of meditations on "The words from the Cross," to be given during the Wednesday evenings of Lent.

Consolidated Citizens' Temperance Association.

The first meeting of the above association was greeted by a large audience at the vestry of the Congress St. M. E. Church last evening. Dr. W. H. True, chairman of the committee, called the meeting to order, and made known the object of the meeting, which was what is the best method to pursue to prosecute the temperance work the coming season. Rev. A. S. Ladd was invited to conduct the devotional exercises and to preside over the meeting. The speeches were of such nature as to fully impress upon those present their duties as individuals in advancing the cause of temperance, and resulted in getting 95 signatures to the pledge. The speakers for the evening were Hon. Sidney Perham, H. Hight, J. B. Fillebrown, F. G. Rich, Job T. Sanford, M. G. Palmer, G. W. Murch, A. J. Chase, G. W. C. T. of Maine, John Crockett.

Valuation Commissioner.

Yesterday Messrs. W. W. Thomas, J. McLellan, I. P. Farrington, Francis Fessenden, and S. R. Small, a committee appointed to select a valuation commissioner for Cumberland County, met, and it was voted to recommend Hiram Knowlton, Esq., for the position by a vote of three for Mr. Knowlton, one for W. F. Milliken and one for W. W. Thomas, Jr

Accidents.

Monday forenoon Mr. Frank P. Johnson at Gorham was struck upon the head by the accidental fall of a cake of ice from a high staging where he was storing it. For some time it was feared it might prove fatal, but at last accounts he was in a fair way to recover.

Knights of Pythias.

Tonight the Munjoy Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will celebrate their seventh anniversary by a grand ball at City Hall. The Lodge will appear in full regalia, and Chandler's Band have arranged an excellent order of dances.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deering—Samuel H. Tewksbury to C. A. Kennard et al., lot of land.

Scarboro—Ezra Carter to Rachel Bryant, 4,000 square feet of land.

A Lucid Correspondent.

The Argus has got a new correspondent, who fills more than two columns in its issue of the 9th inst., covering more territory, with a given quantity of ideas, than was ever before achieved in the annals of journalism. The length of the sentences seems to suggest Secretary Evarts as the writer, but that can't be, for Evarts is a Republican. It cannot be Jane Thurston, for she is too sane and clear-headed to make such an exhibition of herself. The date, Augusta, suspiciously near the Insane Asylum, rather leads to the inference that one of the inmates of that institution, in some of his most lucid intervals, wrote and forwarded it.

Fearing the readers of the PRESS may not all see the article referred to, or, seeing it, neglect to peruse it carefully, we reproduce, verbatim, one of the most pointed, terse and lucid sentences, though not the longest by any means:

Knowing this they would not change their positions with these 7 Judges, nor with any of their partners in their work, nor with any man or men who now illegally, wrongly and by the most corrupt means imaginable hold seats in any branch at the State House or any positions any man may hold by the acts of an illegal assembly of men such as now temporarily reign at Augusta—no doubt the knowing ones with fear and trembling, as their actions confirm this belief as to danger to any republican whether candidate or not, about the State House or its vicinity from any Fusionist in any way there is not the least.

Yarmouth.

Rev. Mr. Davies of North Yarmouth occupied the pulpit at the First Church last Sunday, preaching two excellent sermons. A Sabbath school concert was held at the chapel in the evening; Captain Samuel B. Soule, the Superintendent presided.

The services of Miss Hattie F. Hill the favorite soprano have been secured at the Williston Church, Portland.

No settled pastor yet in the Baptist Society.

The primary school in district No. 4, Miss Sarah Thompson, teacher, closed last week.

Grand dance at Masonic Hall Thursday evening. Music by Wyman's Band, C. L. Barker, prompter. Come all and have a good time. B. D. A.

Funeral of Aaron McKenney.

The funeral services of Aaron McKenney were held yesterday at his late residence in Saco, and were attended by a very large circle of his relatives and friends from Saco, Biddeford, Portland, Buxton, Hollis and other surrounding towns.

The Rev. Henry A. Wales of Biddeford officiated and preached a very eloquent sermon from 1st Cor., 4th chapter, 5th verse: "Therefore judge nothing before the time," a text very appropriate from the fact that it was quoted to him by Mr. McKenney last May. Very excellent music was furnished by Prof. E. Lane, assisted by the Misses Hattie Atkinson, Jennie Littlefield, Mr. George E. Grant, Mr. James H. Fenderson, composing the choir of the Unitarian (Second Parish) church of Saco. Mr. Charles W. McKenney of Buxton and Charles H. Milliken had the general management of the exercises, and discharged their responsible duties to the entire satisfaction of the large concourse of people present.

Mr. Wales spoke particularly of the remarkable soundness of his body and mind, which he possessed to the day of his death, when he had reached the great age of one hundred and two years, one month and sixteen days. He also spoke of his unbounded hospitality and charity in entertaining large numbers of people at his house and never being drawn into a legal controversy prior to the 100th anniversary of his birthday.

Bar Mills.

BAR MILLS, Feb. 10, 1880.

Narragansett Lodge of Good Templars, with its neighboring Lodges, visited Alfred Lodge last evening. We numbered about two hundred, and went on a special train hired for the occasion. We arrived in Alfred about 8.30 p. m., and were escorted to the large town hall, and found upon arrival there a large number of Alfred people, who gave us a cordial welcome. At 10 p. m. we were invited to visit the room under the hall, and on entering there we found a good supply of pastry, hot coffee, &c., and were requested to help ourselves, and we did so, and all pronounced it first-class in every respect, after which we returned to the hall and were favored with a song by a Miss Emery of Alfred, entitled "Father is a Drunkard," and then by remarks by Messrs. Allen, Emery and Jordan, of Alfred; Locke and Warren, of Narragansett Lodge; Clark, Marshall and Newcomb, of Salmon Rock Lodge; Sanborn and Owen, of Buxton Center, and Ross, of Hollis Centre. At this time it was nearly midnight and our meeting closed; and I think I speak the sentiments of our company when I say we had a very enjoyable time. We arrived home at 1.15.

We wish to extend our thanks to the officers and members of the above Lodge for all their efforts to make our visit pleasant; also to Mr. J. M. Lunt, Supt. of the P. & R. R. R., for the accommodation furnished us, and to conductor Cutter for courtesy shown to us. M.

BENSON'S ARREST.

A Search for Important Documents of Garcelon and Council.

A despatch to the PRESS yesterday announced the arrest of John Benson, Jr., of Plymouth, charged with larceny of the original tabulations of the election returns made by Gov. Garcelon and Council.

It appears that some time last week, while the state authorities were seeking to obtain possession of a lot of papers and documents affording evidence of the counting out conspiracy Benson, who was appointed on Joe Smith's "staff" and chosen bogus deputy Secretary of State, induced the noted Capt. Black and "Secretary" Sawyer, to filch the papers from the party who had them. The papers are said to have included the original "tabulations of the returns," with the changes that were made, showing the complicity of Garcelon and others in the frauds, and various other documents of a criminating character. The papers are said to have been first sent to Fairfield, where they were examined by ex-Councillor Brown and Channing, of Smith's "staff," but in view of the stringent law recently passed imposing heavy penalties for the abstraction, concealment or destruction of any such public papers or evidence, those worthies are supposed to have feared to keep them and so sent them to Plymouth, where Benson concealed them.

On Thursday last Benson was in Augusta where he was informed that his connection with the missing papers was known and that a warrant had been issued for his arrest. He promised to restore the papers and went home ostensibly for them, being given until the arrival of the late train at Augusta Friday night to redeem his pledge. As he failed to arrive, Major Frank E. Nye, of Gen. Chamberlain's staff, and also sworn as a special deputy sheriff of Kennebec, took passage on the Pullman train at 2 a. m. Saturday with a warrant for Benson's arrest.

Arriving at Newport he found that Benson was not there, but at the hotel met Capt. Black and Channing, of Smith's "staff," also looking for Benson with a warrant for his arrest on a charge of carrying off some two or three hundred dollars of fusion funds. Major Nye at once took a team and drove to a house frequented by Benson and there learned that he was in Bangor. Driving to Bangor with Deputy Sheriff Dow of Newport, Benson was found at the Penobscot Exchange where he had been in consultation with Tom Plaisted, and his arrest was made by Officer Dow. Representative Plaisted advised Benson, for whom he knew a warrant had been issued, to elude the authorities of the state by escaping to St. John.

After his arrest Benson was taken to the Bangor House in charge of Messrs. Nye and Dow, but stubbornly refused to surrender the papers or tell where they were secreted, although he did freely admit that they had been in his possession and that he knew where they were. On Saturday evening it was decided to take Benson to Newport to afford him every opportunity to restore the papers.

He persisted in his refusal and the result was that he was taken to Augusta and arraigned in the police court, under the law enacted at the present session in regard to public records and documents, etc., which provides in Section 3, that whoever shall knowingly and wilfully remove, secrete or destroy or having in his possession or under his control shall refuse or neglect to return or deliver up any book of accounts, vo

Last Saturday evening upon the home coming of the Rev. Mr. Richards of the Central Church and bride there was an illumination in his honor of Mrs. Alvora's residence where at present he is staying.

The Central sociable at the residence of Mrs Alvord last evening may be considered the formal reception of the Rev. Mr. Richards and his newly wedded bride. The large house was well filled with members of the congregation and invited guests. Messrs. Fred Owen and Frank Hayden officiated as ushers and presented new comers to the newly wedded couple. The occasion was made pleasant with music and songs by the well known artists, Miss Jennie R. Morse, Mrs. Nash and Mr. Geo. Sturtevant. A pleasant surprise to the pastor was the finding just previous to the reception upon a centre table in his parlor of an elegant silver water pitcher, salver and goblets presented by the ladies of the sewing circle. Of many elegant and costly gifts a very beautiful set of furniture presented by the ladies of the society may be mentioned. The rooms were all decorated with conservatory flowers. Every one seemed to enjoy the evening's pleasures, and the Rev. pastor and lady must feel gratified with their brilliant and hearty welcome to Bath.

A World of Good.

One of the most popular medicines now before the American public, is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters as it is not a whiskey drink. It is more like the old fashioned bone set tea that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right try Hop Bitters.—Nunda News. feb2eod&wtf

FOR SALE!

A Desirable Sea Side Residence, with a superb view of the ocean. Situated in Cape Elizabeth, on the shore road, thirty minutes ride from the city of Portland. The house is large, has twelve finished rooms not including bath, wash and store room. There are also wood and ice house, grapery and henery attached, and in the cellar, a large cement cistern. As many acres of land will be sold with the house as desired—from three to 150, all surroundings to the house—and including a large barn. This farm can be purchased with, or without the above house. Some fifty acres of the estate lie on the rock-bound coast and embrace two coves the larger of the two producing about 300 cords of rock-weed every year and plenty of muck. The estate would make a superior milk farm as there is plenty of water, both brook and boiling spring, and good pasturage, at least 40 or more tons of hay, an abundance of the finest vegetables are grown on the place. The property will be sold for about half what it has cost, and possession given any time.

The Growing Town of Deering

OFFERS many attractions as a place of residence, and is of easy access by steam and horse cars. The schools are excellent, the churches are well situated, the streets are finely located for drainage, and good sidewalks are built as property is improved. Its rapid growth during the last few years demonstrates that Deering is a first-class place for a suburban residence. I have for sale in desirable locations several houses, built during the late dull times when all material was cheap, which will be sold correspondingly low. I also have for sale lands in various parts of the town which will be sold in lots to suit, and will furnish land and lumber on long time in easy payments, and will contract to build houses ready for occupancy.

Any party desiring to buy, sell, let or hire any suburban property will do well to give me a call. CHARLES RICH, 15 Exchange Street. de15eodtf
